

Children's Dentistry of Indianapolis

Husband and wife pediatric dentist specialists, Dr. Sam Bullard and Dr. Swati Singh have created a unique and nurturing dental home for children. "I am a mother of three young children, myself," says Dr. Singh. "I understand the demands facing today's children and their parents."

This pediatric dental office is conveniently located on the northside of Indianapolis at the intersection of US31 and 465. Children's Dentistry of Indianapolis provides individual, compassionate care to infants, children, adolescents, and those with special health care needs.

Drs. Singh and Bullard follow the American Academy of Pediatric Dentistry (AAPD) guidelines and encourage first dental visits by the age of one. "Starting early and providing a safe comfortable environment with exceptional service helps us nurture a relationship with your child and build a foundation for a lifetime of oral health care," says Dr. Singh. "One of our goals is to make sure that this and future generations of children grow up without a fear of the dental office," adds Dr. Bullard. New technologies such as lasers, digital x-rays, tooth colored crowns and fillings, and even "non drilling" fillings are combined with amenities such as televisions and video games to promote a fun environment. "No longer do we have to choose between functional or beautiful. We do a service to our patients and ourselves to research and learn these newer technologies," notes Dr. Singh. The doctors routinely attend continuing educational seminars so that they may enhance the quality of care for their patients.

Drs. Singh and Bullard create unique solutions for individual patients. After hour round the clock emergency services are available to accommodate the active lives of young children. Additionally, Dr. Singh and Bullard offer sedation dentistry options including having privileges at St. Vincent Hospital should children need surgery.

Helping children form healthy oral habits and making their visits to the dentist a fun experience will be the foundation of a lifetime of dental health according to Drs. Singh and Bullard.

Drs. Singh and Bullard are active in the local community. They often travel with their office Tooth Fairy to schools, daycares, and even parties to promote the benefits of oral health care. Perhaps you have seen them driving about town in their special Tooth Fairy Mobile. Away from their dental offices, Drs. Singh and Bullard enjoy spending time with their children.
